

Dolmen Pro

General: Dolmen pro is inspired by a natural icon - Porphyry stone from the Trentino Alto Adige region of Italy. This collection shows all the strong textures and geometry of this South Tyrolean stone, combined with the high technical properties of porcelain stoneware, and is ideal for architectural projects which leverage surface textures and their natural imperfections.

In contrast with the original stone, which is mainly used outdoors, Dolmen Pro has been produced in surface finishes that allow it to be used highly evocative applications even for interior design. Also available in Mosaics, Brick patterns and Fan paving

Applications: For all commercial & residential outdoor and indoor applications where a consistent natural setting surface is required to blur the lines of natural stone architecture. Create various edge detailing and laminations for steps, pool copings, as well as custom external and internal designs.
